

Training Opportunities

The Army has partnered with the Navy's Family Housing Management Institute (FHMI) at NAS Jacksonville, FL and the Air Force to present various housing certification courses in FY 02. Most seats will be available at NAS Jacksonville, FL but space available may also be at other sites on West Coast and overseas. The Navy contracts the courses and instructors from the National Center for Housing Management (NCHM), Institute of Real Estate Management (IREM) and National Association of Homebuilders (NAHB). HQDA will pay tuition for selected students based on availability of funds.

Installations/activities are responsible for all other per diem and transportation costs.

The Navy Institute's information, schedules and course descriptions are available on their website at www.fhmi.hsgnav.com for your evaluation and consideration. The courses most beneficial for Army Housing careerists are:

Certified Manager of Housing (CMH), Certified Maintenance Manager Course (CMM),
Site Based Budgeting Specialist (SBBS)

Registered Housing Manager (RHM), Registered in Apartment Management (RAM), Accredited Residential Manager (ARM).

We will have access to a limited number of seats and I need to know interest and availability to program funds and to lock us in for next year. To develop straw man requirements, request that nominations/registrations be approved by local authorized supervisor with intent to attend.

Prior to attendance, I will need students' DD1556 information (name, grade, series, position, organization, telephone, & EMAIL address) to process and will provide registration information upon acceptance. Course info and NCHM synopsis of courses is attached.
